

Wonder

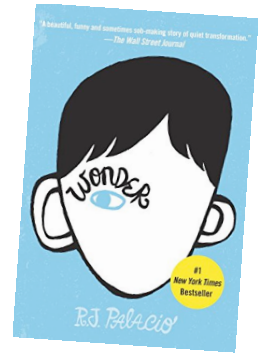

Week Four

"Your deeds are your monuments."

Let's read one chapter a day. This week, we'll read pages 62-72.

Warm-up question!

If you could do anything, or go anywhere, for your birthday, what would you want?

New words! Did you discover some new words this week? Write the word below, along with the definition. Then, try and use the word in an original sentence.

Word 1:

Definition:

Sentence:

Word 2:

Definition:

Sentence:

Word 3:

Definition:

Sentence:

Word 4:

Definition:

Sentence:

Word 5:

Definition:

Sentence:

Thought questions!

What does Mr. Browne’s precept for October mean to you? “Your deeds are your monuments.”

On page 67, Auggie’s mother is talking about Julian and his mother and says, “I guess the apple doesn’t fall far from the tree.” What does she mean? If you don’t know the meaning, look it up online and write an explanation below.

If you could go to school in a costume on Halloween, what would you be?

The best stuff!

What was your favorite passage from this week’s reading assignment?
